MEMPHIS APPEAL.

THE JUDICIARY AND THE RIGHT OF FRANCHISE.

The questions of the constitutionality of the disfranchisement of white men and of the investiture of negroes with citizenship in Tennessee, are now before the Supreme Court, sitting at Brownsville, in a case which contests the validity of the elections of last March in Shelby county. The case also involves, we understand, the legality of the action of Governor Brownlow in annulling the registration of voters here, in removing the Registrar, Davis, and in annulling his acts done during several days prior to his removal from office.

No graver questions than these will ever be presented to the Supreme Court of Tennessee. They are so from their own intrinsic importance, as demanding that the Court shall either sanction or condemn the disinheritance of thousands of citizens of the State, by their deprivation without conviction or trial, but by a mere legislative sentence, of their "English birthright," as Lord HOLT termed the right to vote, if they refuse to swear that they have not done particular acts or felt particular sympathies, or entertained particular opinions. They are so because they call on the Court to decide whether, when part of the citizens constituting a State established by white men, have succeeded in disfranchising the rest, they can, without authority to that effect in the Constitution, confer the prerogatives of citizenship on a horde of ignorant descendants of black barbarians, and put the political power of the State in their hands. They are so, because they require the Court to decide whether the Governor of the State is really invested with the power to cancel certificates of registration in the hands of those who have obtained them by a full compliance with the laws under which they were issued; and whether the other officers of the State have no other tenure of office than his will.

But these questions are graver still, because they have become in a great measure of a political nature, and the Jacobinical doctrine is now boldly announced in high places, that in such cases, the opinions of the Court should be so moulded and fashioned as to accommodate themselves to what the populace or the party in power demand.

The deluge of licentious and anarchical Jacobinism has swept away all the safeguards of constitutional liberty save one, or they are rapidly crumbling before it; and that one, the independence and integrity of the judiciary, is angrily menaced by it, and begins to yield.

The time was when no man distrusted the judiciary. Unfortunately that time is past. It is no longer an unknown thing for a Judge to decide a case in his own mind, in accordance with his party predilections, and afterwards to seek for reasons to justify his decision. It is not so difficult now, as it once was, for a Court to evade the conclusions of an inexorable logic; because men are no longer disgusted with sophistry, or amazed at perversions, or startled at the pliancy of his judicial conscience.

If the judiciary would vindicate itself from aspersion, it must walk in the straight path of the law, turning neither to the right hand or the left, and deaf alike to the clamours of faction or the mob, the seductions of prejudice, and the thousand other influences that beset them and seek to lead them astray.

If the Father of all can hate any human creature, He must hate the unjust or corrupt Judge; and the magistrate is both unjust and corrupt who allows any improper influences to lead him to wrongful judgment. The country and the people, or at least all sober and thinking men look this day with the extremest concern and anxiety to the Tribunals of Justice as alone capable of opposing the encroachments of power and the usurpations of faction, and of maintaining the Constitution and the great principles of English liberty. If they prove untrue to their trust, they become lost to honour and were better have died in the faithful performance of duty than have lived to receive the wages and eat the bread of the slavery of dishonour.

The Constitution of the State of New York, in force in 1843, provided that "No member of this State shall be disfranchised, or deprived of any rights or privileges secured to any citizen thereof, unless by the law of the land, or the judgment of his peers."

The language of the original provision in the Great Charter of King John, which this provision imitated, was, as translated from the original latin: "No freeman shall be seized or imprisoned, or dispossessed or outlawed, or in any way destroyed (aut aliquo modo destruatur); nor will we condemn him, nor will we commit him to prison, excepting by the legal judgment of his peers or by the law of the land." In the Second Great Charter of King Henry III, the language was, "No freeman shall be taken or imprisoned, or dispossessed, of his free tenement or liberties or free customs, or be outlawed or exiled, or in any way destroyed:" and it is the same in the Third Great Charter of King Henry III, and the First of King Edward I.

In the Constitution of Tennessee the provision is: "That no freeman shall be taken or imprisoned, or disseized of his freehold, liberties or privileges, or outlawed or exiled, or in any manner destroyed, or deprived of his life, liberty or property, but by the judgment of his peers or the law of the land."

Commenting on the provision quoted from Magna Charta, Lord COKE says, (2d Instit. 46): "No man shall be disseized, that is, put out of seison, or dispossessed of his freehold (that is) lands or livelihood, or of his liberties, or free customes, that is, of such franchises, and freedomes, and free customes, as belong to him by his free birthright, unless it be by the lawfull judgement, that is, verdict, of his equals (that is, of men of his own condition) or by the law of the land, (that is, to speak it once for all), by the due course, and processe of law."

In Taylor v. Porter, 4 Hill 140, the Supreme Court of New York said, after citing the provision above quoted from the Constitution of that State: "The words, 'by the law of the land,' as here used, do not mean a Statute passed for the purpose of working the wrong. That construction would render the restriction absolutely nugatory, and turn this part of the Constitution into mere nonsense. The people would be made to say to the two Houses, 'You shall be vested with the legislative power of the State; but no one shall be disfranchised, or deprived of any of the rights or privileges of a citizen, unless you pass a statute for that purpose;' in other words, 'You shall not do the wrong, unless you choose to do it.' . . The meaning of the section then seems to be, that no member of the State shall be disfranchised, or deprived of any of his rights or privileges, unless the matter shall be adjudged against him upon trial had according to the course of the common law. It must be ascertained JUDICIALLY that he has forfeited his privileges, or that some one else has a superior title to the property he posesses, before either of them can be taken from him. IT CANNOT BE DONE BY MERE LEGISLATION. The words 'due process of law' cannot mean less than a prosecution or suit, instituted and conducted according to the prescribed forms and solemnities for ascertaining guilt, or determining the title to property."

This decision was approved and the same principles asserted, under the Constitution of 1846, in the same Court, in White vs. White, 5 Barbour 474.

Undoubtedly, as was held in Barker v. The People, 3 Cowen 636 and 20 Johnson 457 and in Wynehamer v. The People, 3 Kernan, 378, 418, the Legislature may provide by law that incapacity to hold office or vote shall be part of the punishment of a particular offence. But it is part of the punishment; and no man can be in any way punished for crime, except upon one trial and conviction. There is no other lawful mode of ascertaining that he has been guilty; and until he has been so convicted, he is presumed to be innocent.

The Supreme Court of Tennessee, in Ridley vs. Sherbrook, unconsciously evaded the real question in the cause, and decided one which did not settle the case before them. They said (we prefer to quote their own words):

The elective franchise is not an inalienable right or privilege, but a political right conferred, limited or withheld, at the pleasure of the people acting in their sovereign capacity. Each State may define it in its own constitution, or empower its Legislature to do so.

The right once granted, was not taken away by the exercise of sovereignty power or forfeited for crime under the laws of the State, and if taken away by the sovereign power of the State, as by an alteration in its Constitution, no vested right is violated or bill of attainder passed, or act of pains and penalties in the sense of the Constitution of the United States. It follows if the convention of 1865 could, under the ratification of the people, declare the qualification of voters and limit the elective franchise, it could delegate the power to the Legislature. It might have left the elective franchise open to the action of all future legislation, but it chose to limit it to the General Assembly which should first assemble under the amended Constitution.

The question was not whether the Legislature could make participation in what it deemed and declared treason and rebellion, a disqualification to vote: but whether it could enact that this fact of guilt might be made to appear, and to work the disqualification, without a trial and conviction in due course of law. The Court said, afterwards, that a person must bring himself within the terms of the law, to be entitled to be registered; but that was not to decide the question on which the case turned. The Court should have inquired whether the Legislature could constitutionally, or according to the principles of natural justice and right, torture the conscience, as the Inquisition tortured the body, by requiring a party to swear that he had not committed a particular offence, as a condition precedent to reconstruction. To refuse to swear is to confess the guilt; and thus the party loses his franchise, for the reason that he has committed an offence, when he has not been tried and convicted: and would equally lose his franchise if he had been acquitted, unless he would swear that he was not guilty; and thus his acquittal would no longer avail him anything.

The decision is too palpably and glaringly wrong to be entitled to the least respect; and it has to a most unfortunate extent destroyed the general confidence in the Court.

Of course the same principles apply, and even more strongly, to the exercise by the Governor of the pretended right to cancel by proclamation and 'at one fell swoop,' all the certificates of registration issued to the people of a county. The President of the United States might as well attempt to cancel patents for land, or certificates of naturalization, by proclamation. Once granted, the certificate of registration can only be cancelled by judicial action and for lawful cause.

These principles are too elementary to need to be discussed. Ten years ago, nobody would have dreamed that they could ever be brought into controversy. But we are all at sea now, and the very foundations of the law are disturbed and unsettled. Propositions are now gravely advanced by judges which would have been laughed at by the whole legal profession of the country at any time prior to 1861; and those are denied which all men once deemed as undeniable as the axioms of geometry. At this rate, we shall soon have outlived the law and the Courts will fall into complete contempt.

So an office is an estate, that may be sued for, and that cannot be taken away by a Proclamation, but only by judicial procedure. If the Governor can remove a Registrar at his pleasure, he can equally remove the Judges of the Supreme Court; and if these affirm his power to do the former, they would win little sympathy if he were to exercise the latter. We wish to respect the Supreme Court, but if it would have men do so, it must show that it respects itself.

—A ghastly discovery has just been made at Gull Island, near Green Bay, Newfoundland. Some sailors went recently in the boat of a passing vessel to shoot birds on that island, and there came upon thirteen dead bodies, frozen stiffly together under a piece of frozen canvas. They also found a sort of journal, from which it appeared that the brigantine Queen, with seventeen persons on board, was wrecked on Gull Island on the 12th of last December. Thirteen took refuge on shore, and four were carried off in the drifting vessel and disappeared.

The Strike on the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad.

From the Nashville Banner of the 6th.]

The decided action of the employees of the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad yesterday, while it was unexpected, anticipated the time set for the stoppage of trains unless their demands were acceded to on the part of the administration of the road. It is hardly to be wondered at when we take into consideration the fact that these men have so long been deprived of wages honestly and industriously earned. They have indeed been placed in a desperate strait, their families have cried for bread and they have had none to give. It is true that a few barrels of flour have been doled out to the most needy, but every one knows that it is impossible for a working man to "live by bread alone" and perform the arduous labors required of him. They claim, too, that while this state of affairs has existed for months, Innes has never failed to pay favorite employees in his office and directly under his supervision at Nashville.

The freight train due here at 2 o'clock yesterday morning ran off an open switch, west of the Northwestern sheds, running into and smashing four box cars which were on the side track, knocking off the smoke stack of the locomotive, damaging the cowcatcher, bursting the steam pipes and otherwise wrecking the engine. Fortunately no one was hurt. There is a report to the effect that to render the trap more effective the switch bar had been spiked down. This, however, is contradicted. The damage to the engine is estimated at $2000. The employees deny emphatically that they had any thing to do with the accident, and claim that it was caused by the carelessness of the switch tender. The men in the shops and upon the trains, about half past ten o'clock in the morning, had refused to work any longer unless paid for labor already done. They also resolved that all trains might come in but none should go out, unless it was a car and engine to carry the mails, until their demands were satisfied.

Sometime before the regular time for the departure of the train, fifteen minutes after five, the men gathered upon the platform with the intention of stopping the train. Innes sent for a force of police, and the project was not carried into effect at the depot. The employees finding that if any hinderance was offered to the departure of the train they would be arrested by the police who stood ready to obey at Innes' bidding, made for the switch at the Northwestern sheds, which was outside the corporation.

The police, after following the employees as far as Cedar street, returned to the depot. When the train moved out, the scene around the depot was rather exciting. Morris Clark got on the engine, it is said, with a revolver. Rea, the only engineer who was not with the strikers, Sheridan, the Superintendent, Grant, the Freight Agent, Welsb, the Assistant Superintendent, Claiborne, the Secretary and Treasurer, and Maj Gray, of the United States Quartermaster Department, rode across well armed. They had no occasion for this precaution, however, for the employees had no intention of raising a riot if it could be possibly avoided, for three of them were prepared. All they wished was their just dues. To prevent the train from proceeding further the employees, from seventy-five to one hundred in number, turned the switch at the Northwestern sheds, and quietly but determinedly compelled the train to return. The stoppage of the train drew a large crowd together, by whom, when the train had backed to the depot, there was considerable sympathy for the employees displayed. The wreck of the morning had not, by this time, been cleared away, for the strikers would not let an engine go out for the purpose.

Here follows a few details which our space will not permit us to publish.

As the strike extends from here to Hickman, its formidable proportions will be readily comprehended.

By the way, recurring to the real cause of the complication, we would like to ask how it is that Receiver Innes can manage to pay such large salaries to his two little sons, whom he keeps in the employ of the road, while the families of these employees are suffering for the necessaries of life? The elder of the two fortunate youths is not over fourteen years of age, yet we hear it stated by parties who know the secrets of the ring that he actually draws a salary of two hundred dollars per month.

We present below the justification offered by the strikers. It was adopted at a meeting last night, at which J. T. Leak acted as Chairman, and M. Glenn as Secretary:

NASHVILLE, June 5, 1868.

To the Editor of the Banner:

We suppose that everybody has heard of the strike on the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad, after the perusal of yesterday's Banner.

The stopping of the trains to-day was not for the purpose of detaining the mails or interfering with the passenger traffic, and the stopping of the mails can only be attached to the officers of the road. The old employees of the road were perfectly willing to continue the running of the mail trains until Monday, June 8, but were detained from so doing by Wm. P. Innes, Receiver of the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad, he refusing the so proffered services of C. H. Lytle (an old and tried engineer, who has been in the employ of the company ever since its transfer by the Government to that corporate body), who voluntarily proffered them, although unknown to Mr. Pat. Kelly, Master Mechanic. Receiver Innes would not accept Mr. Lytle's offer, but must obtain the services of a sneak and bribing house-keeping villain, a man who has not the friendship or esteem of even the lowest loafer in Nashville, and who, some six weeks since, was the loudest clamorer of all who wished to start the strike. This man Rea was not taken off the engine or ever ordered off until the train had departed on its regular schedule, but was compelled to return by the strikers. The road has been conducted under its present regime as long as we can stand it, as we have honestly and candidly lied ourselves out of our boarding houses and clothes.

RENTS.

Rents have fallen in Memphis, but they are still one-third higher than in Louisville, and city property is assessed for taxation at exorbitant valuations, while the population of the city steadily diminishes. Meat costs the mechanic more here than it does at Nashville. The prices demanded for provisions of all kinds are enormous. The burthen of taxation is too great to bear; and money flows continually Northward in payment for supplies of every kind, while there is no returning current. The banks are merely useless to the community, and profitable chiefly to those to whom they pay salaries. In what trade or profession can any one here now earn and get more than a bare living? What newspaper pays any profit or more than barely supports itself, except those which the Legislature has empowered to levy black mail on the community which detests them, by making them the exclusive media for legal advertising?

Property-holders may still profitably read and ponder on the following paragraph from the New York Tribune:

Real estate owners, who were unsatisfied with fair or even extraordinary returns on their investments, but who, in spite of the remonstrances of tenants, raised their rents, are now, many of them, reaping a just reward. For years, with a few local or temporary exceptions, real estate in this city has been paying to its owners a larger per centage than any other equally safe investment, to say nothing of the fact that it has been constantly increasing in value at the rate of from ten to twenty-five per cent. a year, and yet, so long were landlords in the habit of raising their rents on the first of May, or whenever their leases expired, that the custom has become chronic. This year, however, hundreds of dealers, both wholesale and retail, and thousands of families, found themselves with the balance on the wrong side of the profit and loss account, and felt that retrenchment must commence somewhere. On receiving the customary notice "that rents had advanced since last year," wholesale dealers remonstrated; retailers said that they should be obliged to return as journeymen to their trades; and heads of families announced their determination to remove to Brooklyn or New Jersey, or even to try their fortunes in the country. Landlords generally were inexorable; they had heard such threats before, and threw out hints of other tenants standing ready to take possession of vacated property. For once they were deceived. Wholesale dealers went out of business or removed to cheaper stores; retailers left the palatial houses on the great thoroughfares for less pretentious ones on smaller streets; families went to Brooklyn and Jersey by thousands, and to-day "To Let" is posted on some of the most costly wholesale stores down town, on more of those occupied by small dealers, and on hundreds of dwellings, from the richly furnished Fifth avenue brown stone fronts to the mean tenements in the Fourth and Seventeenth wards. Perhaps real estate owners may learn a lesson.

Perhaps they may, in New York. They have not yet learned it here.

THE DRY TORTUGAS.

Does the President not dare to release the prisoners who are wasting away their lives in unlawful imprisonment on the Dry Tortugas, victims of unlawful Military Commissions, offered up to appease the savage anger of a people which, like all others, makes those who are innocent atone for the offences of a multitude and appease its unreasoning anger.

One victim has escaped. We find the following announcement of his safety in the Louisville Courier:

ST. LEGER GRENFEL SAFE IN HAVANA.—When St. Leger Grenfel's escape from those "islands of sorrow," the Dry Tortugas, was first announced, it was said that he had got away in a leaky boat while a terrible storm was raging, and that he had in all probability gone to the bottom. We take the following paragraph from the Mobile Register of May 29th:

"The public was greatly gratified not long since to learn that this gallant English soldier had escaped from his prison at the Dry Tortugas, and in his love of liberty, at the risk of life, he had trusted himself to the mercies of a frail boat in an attempt to cross the Florida Straits to Cuba. We have the pleasure of stating that his voyage was made in safety, and that a letter has been received from him in Havana, sending his thanks and acknowledgments for kind treatment to some of the army officers at Tortugas, and stating that he was just about to sail for Old England. We do not doubt that every gentleman officer belonging to the garrison of his prison guard rejoices at his escape."

It will be remembered that Grenfel was detained a prisoner long after the Court Martial which condemned him had been pronounced unlawful, and its sentence nullified by the highest tribunal known to our laws. He repeatedly offered in vain to submit himself to any civil court in the land, and to abide its sentence upon the charges against him. It is a relief to know that he has escaped from a cruel and unjust imprisonment. It is a shame to know that he owes his release neither to the mildness of our Government nor to the majesty of our Courts.

The minions of power should have murdered him, when they could have done so with impunity, or they should have released him long ago. He will soon be in a country where men are free, and he can tell the world the story of his incarceration. It will hardly be a pleasant book, we imagine, for some men to read: but it will be one that will open many eyes, and change fulsome adulation of American "magnanimity" into execration.

It is undeniable that most of the prisoners confined on the Dry Tortugas are unlawfully imprisoned. The Supreme Court of the United States has settled that. Did the President never think, while the blood-hounds of Jacobinism were howling on his track and about to pull him down, and when only a single vote saved him from unjust conviction, of the unfortunates confined in open violation of the law in that prison-house of the Mexican Gulf, to await another visitation of the yellow fever, that may perhaps silence them forever, as it was perhaps hoped that Grenfel would be silenced? Did he never remember that he ordered that the United States writ of Habeas Corpus should not be obeyed by the military officer in charge of Mrs. Surratt? He has escaped. Is it not time for him to begin to do justice to others, and to atone for that great and fatal error, as far as atonement is possible? Why does he not pardon the illustrious chieftains of the South, Lee, Johnston, Beauregard and others, who have so faithfully kept their paroles and the terms of their surrender? Is he afraid to do it? Is he afraid it will be an injury to himself, to do what is demanded by humanity and justice alike?

DEMOCRATIC LETTER FROM CALIFORNIA.

The following copy of a letter from Col. Thomas H. Hayes, Delegate at large from California to the National Democratic Convention has been forwarded to the APPEAL for publication. The writer has been the first to announce to the people of California what is therein contained, and the contents are therefore of interest:

OCCIDENTAL HOTEL,
SAN FRANCISCO, May 8, 1868.

Augusta Belmont, Esq., Chairman of Democratic National Executive Committee, New York:

Sir: I have delayed an answer to your note of March 2d, until subsequent to the adjournment of our State Convention, that met in this city, and finished its business about a week since. Its sessions were most harmonious, and the body made many nominations exceedingly satisfactory. The most eminent men in California, if I may be allowed to use the expression, have been selected as standard bearers, and there is nothing left but to ratify the nominations at the polls next November. This is a foregone conclusion.

I inclose in this communication, for your perusal, as well as for the gentlemen associated with you who are in charge of the great and true National Democratic party, a report of the proceedings of our late State Convention. Oregon and Nevada are on our side. This may seem a little too confident, but my prediction is based upon the several elections that have taken place in the States mentioned during the past few months, and particularly the very recent one in Virginia City, in Nevada, where the Democracy were successful as they were on every occasion referred to.

The negro superiority of which you speak, is only talked of in this State, by all parties, with the contempt and derision which the hypocrisy of its advocates in Congress deserves.

The negroes in California have more good sense than their false advisers in Washington and elsewhere. They do not, as a race, demand the elective franchise, or aspire to social equality. They are as fully protected in their civil rights as white men are, on the Pacific coast. We know that the Union Destructionists in Congress, claiming and usurping all the powers of the Government, and forcing the negroes upon the South as the rulers of the whites—would never consent to such a degradation of their own people at home. This political expedient originates in pure malice, as matter of revenge, and exhibits the malignity of the dominant power, unrestrained by the Constitution, the law, morality or religion. The revolutions, without the use of arms, may be justified upon admitted principles; but the Radical party, in its continuous revolutionary proceedings, outrages every principle of government by pretending to secure what it is every day destroying. This party action is without parallel in modern history, and tells a woful story against liberty and proud republics.

Let the Democracy unite upon a leader at the National Convention, and the American people, including what you properly call the Conservative element, will retrieve the character of the nation by a restoration of its principles, and be once more together.

I will be in New York in time to meet you and our colleagues at the National Convention.

I am, most respectfully, yours,
THOMAS H. HAYES,
Delegate to the National Democratic Convention, at large, from the State of California.

BLIFIL AND BLACK GEORGE: THE PURITAN AND BLACKLEG.

The National Intelligencer says, of the investigation engaged in by Benj. F. Butler and his guano associates, and of George Wilkes, editor of the Spirit of the Times, and Tilton, editor of the Independent:

All these so-called investigations of the Radical majority have ended in nothing but expense and discredit. They are intended to fill the pockets of partisans, and are used as political machines, which the Treasury is required to pay for. The managers themselves do not believe one word of what they have alleged regarding improper influences, and their uniform votes prove that they themselves dare not confront an inquiry, or permit one to be made, which would serve to bring out the means which the Radicals have employed to obtain conviction. Look at the course of their newspapers, and the humiliating spectacle of the editor of the sporting ring organ appropriately blended with the "Puritanical" knave who conducts the Independent, audaciously intruding on the floor of the Senate, betting openly for, while demanding conviction, and pouring out the vials of their brutal abuse upon Senators who declined to vote to put money in their purse.

The Late Fizzle—The Battle Money—The Opinion of the Stake-Holder.

It is well known that the editor of the New York Clipper holds the stake money of the McCoole and Coburn "Wind" Mill, and as a demand has been made for the funds by the McCoole party, the following extract from the Clipper may not be uninteresting, as in a measure it foreshadows the action of the stake-holder regarding the battle money in his hands. After reviewing the events attending the meeting, he says:

The match, therefore, remains in abeyance, and although it is said that McCoole claimed the stakes in the ring, we have heard of nothing direct from either party. Unless either can prove beyond cavil, that his opponent was instrumental in his own or his adversary's arrest for the purpose of preventing a meeting, neither man has any ground upon which he can make claim for the stakes; and unless there is a mutual agreement neither can draw his money. Unless some mutual arrangement can be made to draw the stakes, we would suggest that a meeting of the principals and their backers be held here, as soon as McCoole and Coburn are released, and thereby come to a determination as to future proceedings. A party—whether by authority or not, we cannot state—called upon us a day or two ago, and stated that "Coburn was willing to leave the stakes remain, increase the amount $1000 to $5000 a side, and fight upon neutral ground, Canada or elsewhere." There is sufficient money at stake already. If a meeting cannot be brought about for ten thousand dollars, there is less probability of the match being brought to a satisfactory conclusion when the stakes are greater. If Coburn means fighting, the stakes in hand are all sufficient to reward him should he prove a winner.

—A New York letter-writer says: The era of high rents for business houses is not past, by any means. It is a marvel to outsiders how some merchants manage to pay as much as they do. The old Lorillard residence, on the corner of Broadway and Tenth street, is now being converted into a store, with two buildings on Tenth street added, and I understand that a retail dealer in ribbons, trimmings, etc., has leased it at a rent of forty thousand dollars a year. Rents on Broadway, between canal street and the Fifth Avenue Hotel, are higher this year than ever before, and will probably be still higher next year. If business does not greatly improve, it will be utterly impossible for some of the Broadway dealers to pay the rents they are now under contract to pay.

TORONTO, June 9.—The case against Boyd & Wood, to recover United States postage stamps to the amount of $105, captured in July, 1864, by the Confederate privateer Florida from the United States steamer Electric Spark, near New York harbor, was argued yesterday before Vice Chancellor Mowatt, and now stands for judgment.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

The weather is clear and pleasant.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—The river has risen two feet within the past forty-eight hours.

LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, June 9.—The delegates from Mobile, St. Louis and Cincinnati are here with a view to secure the cooperation of the merchants of Louisville in the movement now being made to open Bayou Mouchac.

There was quite a large assemblage at Cedar Hill Park this evening to witness the match game of base ball between the Athletic Club, of Philadelphia, and the Louisville Club, of this city. The game lasted two hours and resulted in an easy victory for the Athletics. The score stood as follows: Athletic, 51; Louisville, 3. The Louisville boys were whitewashed eight times.

GALVESTON.

GALVESTON, June 9.—An Austin special to the News says the Judiciary Committee reported a resolution, which passed, requesting Congress to allow the Convention to appoint Boards of Registration.

Hamilton, of Travis, said he believed Gen. Buchanan was partial to those who were in deadly hostility to the Government, and nothing could be hoped from him.

Hamilton, of Bastrop, called Gen. Buchanan a "Copperhead," and said the latter would stock the Convention with rebels if he had the power.

A committee was appointed to take into consideration a division of the State.

The Committee on Public Lands was requested to inquire into the propriety of selling a part of the State to the Government.

NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, June 9.—The Democratic State Convention met to-day, and was largely attended, every section of the State being represented. It was composed of the leading men of former parties and prominent leaders on both sides during the war.

Its session was prolonged out of time. Considerable feeling prevailed, but not of an acrimonious character. Differences of views of policy were candidly discussed, while there was entire accord on all matters of principle. A Platform was adopted formally declaring that the Conservatives of Tennessee were with the National Democratic party, in declaring that the doctrine of secession was finally decided by the war, but asserting the just rights of the States. Strong ground was declared against the Reconstruction policy of Congress, and in favor of the rightful supremacy of the white man in the control of the Government. The greenback policy was unanimously and enthusiastically adopted, and a resolution laudatory of President Johnson for his administrative policy, and congratulating him and the country on the defeat of impeachment, was adopted, and without nominating him at New York, it was declared that in the event his name was mentioned, it was due that the delegation should cast its vote for him.

The delegation is composed of good men of all shades of former politics. A majority are considered Pendleton men, and a general impression prevailed that he would be the candidate, as he is the representative of the financial policy, which has proved itself very strong. A committee was appointed to prepare an address to the New York Convention.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The Boards of City Council to-day held separate sessions under their two different party organizations.

The Conservative members in joint meetings adopted a preamble setting forth that in violation of the charter of the city, the Register (a Radical) has refused to deliver the election returns to a joint meeting of the Council, and concluding with a resolution that the committee again demand the returns in order that they may be counted and the fact ascertained as to who received the highest number of votes for Mayor.

The committee, after a short absence, returned and reported that the Register refused to comply with the demands, so the meeting gave the Committee further time to attend to the business and authorized it to send for persons and papers and to employ counsel. A recess was then taken until to-morrow evening.

The Radical Senators held an adjourned caucus meeting this morning on the subject of making changes in the subordinate officers of the Senate, but there not being a unanimity of views, the whole subject was postponed until December.

Gen. Grant left to-day for West Point. He will probably deliver the diplomas to the graduating class.

The Democratic Convention seem about equally divided between Chase and Pendleton.

Commodore Vanderbilt has been re-elected President of the Hudson River Railroad.

A verdict of $5200 has been returned against the Adams Express Company for the loss of a valise, alleged to have contained $5000 two years ago.

Crabtree, the father of the actress, Lotta, was arrested last evening on the complaint of his daughter, charged with appropriating twenty-one thousand dollars belonging to her. A bill has been framed against him by the grand jury.

Howard moved to amend the third section so as to make it read that "the first section of this Act shall take effect as to each State, except Georgia, and when such State shall by its Legislature duly ratify Article fourteen of the amendment of the Constitution of the United States, and to the State of Georgia, when it shall in addition give the assent of said State to the fundamental condition herein before imposed, the same." He explained that the section requires the issue of a proclamation by the President announcing the compliance of the State, with the necessary condition, before the State could be admitted to representation in Congress.

Frelinghuysen suggested leaving out of the section the clause making it the duty of the President to issue a proclamation within ten days after the necessary official notification of the ratification. The amendment was modified and adopted.

Sherman moved to amend by striking out the clause imposing on Georgia the further fundamental condition of declaring null and void, by her General Assembly, certain provisions of her Constitution, relative to debts contracted prior to June 1, 1865.

Some debate ensued, during which Morton pronounced the provisions unconstitutional and dishonest, when, without action, the Senate went into executive session and soon adjourned.

The Impeachment Committee will soon conclude its investigations and furnish a record of its testimony to the Senate.

The select Committee of Inquiry into matters affecting the characters of the members of the body, had before them to-day Chas. H. Shelby and Ramon Von Volkenberg, and the money belonging to Woolley and deposited in the sale of the Metropolitan Hotel, was produced.

Sherman, from the Finance Committee, reported to the Senate to-day with amendments to the bill to provide for a uniform coinage among nations, with a recommendation that it be postponed till the next session.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The special order was the Omnibus Bill, so-called, which was taken up, the question being on the amendment to admit Alabama.

Wilson made an argument in favor of the amendment, and after some remarks by Mr. Saulsbury, Mr. Adams' amendment to include Alabama, was agreed to by 22 to 21.

The House bill together with Morton's amendment, was ordered to be printed.

Howard moved to amend the Second section, making it read as follows:

"That if the time fixed for the meeting of the Legislature of either of said States by the consideration thereof, shall have passed or shall have so nearly arrived before the passage of this act, that there shall not be time for the Legislature to assemble at the time fixed by the Constitution of said States, such Legislature shall convene at the end of twenty days from the time this act takes effect, unless the Governor shall convene the same."

He explained the object to be to take from the Governor the discretion of calling the Legislature together or not, as he sees fit, and require it by law, to assemble. The amendment was adopted.

HOUSE.

While the Clerk was reading the Journal, the Sergeant-at-Arms announced the Chinese Embassy.

They were escorted into the House by Messrs. Schenck, Banks and Brooks, who made appropriate welcoming speeches, which Minister Burlingame responded to. They were then introduced by the Committee to the individual members of the House.

All the presentations having taken place, the members of the Embassy took seats in chairs ranged in the area of the house. At 12 o'clock the signal for their departure was given and, escorted by the Committee, they left the Hall, the members of the House standing as they retired.

Beaman, from the Reconstruction Committee, reported a bill to erect two additional States out of the Territory of the State of Texas, which was ordered to be printed and recommitted.

Paine, from the same Committee, reported back the bill to provide for the inauguration of the State officers in Arkansas, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana and Alabama, and for the meeting of the Legislatures of these States.

Brooks made a brief protest against the whole system of legislation, of which this bill is a part. The bill was, however, passed by a party vote. Yeas, 113; nays, 31. It is as follows:

Be it enacted, etc., That the Legislatures of each of the States of Arkansas, North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia and Alabama, elected under the Constitutions thereof, framed and adopted in pursuance of the provisions of "an act for the more efficient government of the rebel States," passed March 21, 1867, and the acts supplementary thereto, be and hereby are authorized to meet on such days as may have been fixed in such Constitutions, or by the proclamation of any officer authorized to convene such Legislatures by the Convention which framed such Constitutions, and if no day shall have been fixed as aforesaid, or if the day fixed for the meeting of the Legislature of either of said States shall have passed, or shall have so nearly arrived before the passage of this act, that in the opinion of the Governor elect, there might not be time for the Legislature to assemble on the day fixed, such Legislature may be convened within thirty days after the passage of this act, by the Governor of said State.

Sec. 2. That whenever either of said States shall be admitted to representation in Congress, the Executive and Judicial officers of such State, duly elected and qualified under the Constitution thereof, may be inaugurated without delay, and the Government of such State shall thereupon be transferred to the civil authorities thereof.

Sec. 3. That it shall be the duty of all civil and military officers exercising authority in either of said States, to afford all practical aid and protection to the officers of such State, in carrying out the provisions of this act; and any such officer who shall willfully withhold such aid and protection, or shall unlawfully prevent, hinder or delay the meeting of either of said Legislatures, or the inauguration of any of said officers; or if any other civil or military officers under either of said State Constitutions shall be guilty of felony, and upon conviction thereof before any Federal or State Court of criminal jurisdiction, shall be punished by imprisonment not exceeding ten years, or by a fine not exceeding $10,000, at the discretion of the court.

Farnsworth reported a bill chartering the New Orleans and Mobile Railroad Company, and authorizing it to construct bridges over navigable waters on its route, which was deferred until to-morrow.

Blaine offered a resolution which was adopted, that the Committee on Foreign Affairs be instructed to inquire whether the action of the Mexican Government in establishing free ports at Matamoras and at other points on the Rio Grande, is not in violation of the treaty stipulation and unfriendly to the commercial rights of this country.

Van Horn of Missouri, from the Committee on Indian Affairs, reported a bill for a consolidation of the Indian tribes, and to organize a system of Government in the Indian Territory, which was recommitted.

Cook, from the Committee on Roads and Canals, made a report on the resolution which referred to it, in relation to the right of Congress to exercise control over Railroads; and also presented a minority report in behalf of Kerr. Ordered to be printed and recommitted.

—The devotees of the "P. R" will be pained to learn that Patsy Nelson and Dennis Hudson, two promising "feather weights," have been sentenced to eighty days in jail, at Terre Haute, Indiana—just double the dose administered to McCoole and Coburn. Pugilists had better keep out of Indiana.

GENERAL ITEMS.

—The entire outstanding debt of the old State Bank of Ohio, on May 20th last, was $407,521. There was redeemed during the previous six months $23,209.

—Hon. Ignatius Donnelly has commenced a suit against E. B. Washburne and the paper in St. Paul which published Washourne's letter. Donnelly lays his damages at $100,000.

—Wm. P. Ender has brought suit in Brooklyn against Eliza Slocthoff, his mother-in-law, for demoralizing his wife and interfering with his connubial happiness, laying the damages at $10,000.

—Joseph Robideaux, the founder of St. Joseph, Mo., died at that city on Wednesday, at the age of eighty-four years. He established an Indian trading post at that point sixty years ago, and resided there ever since.

—A family of astonishing proportions, consisting of two women and a boy, arrived in Chicago a few days ago, to go into the show business. One woman is seven feet six inches high, the other weighed seven hundred pounds, and the boy, an infant of four years, weighs two hundred and thirty pounds.

—The total annual circulation of newspapers in the United States is now estimated to be 1,500,000,000. In Great Britain it is 500,000,000—just one-third that of the United States.

—A Chicagoan about to set out on his travels, and having his feet lighted by the lamp of experience, has procured a trunk encased in sheet iron, on which his name appears in large letters, with a defiant "Throw and be ——."

—The rails on the Central Pacific were laid to Reno, the Virginia City station, on the 8th ult. Thus there are now forty-five miles of rails being operated beyond the Sierras.—Placerville (Cal.) Herald.

—The Chicago platform on the money question reminds one of the old rhymes slightly altered:

It wires in, and wires out,
And still it leaves all folks in doubt
If H. U. Grant and S. Colfax
Mean pay in gold or in greenbacks.

—A "Blood Horse Association" has been formed in Giles county in this State, with a capital of $10 000, and the following officers: Gen. John C. Brown, President; E. Edmunds and Solon E. Rose, Vice-Presidents; J. B. Stacy, Secretary; G. W. Lewis, Treasurer.

—Our Irish fellow-citizens have good cause for pride in the details of the storming of Magdala which have just been received by mail. It seems that the brunt of battle was borne on the plains of Abyssinia, as it has been borne in so many other fields, by the Irish soldiers of the Queen's army. What that army would be without the recruits it draws so freely from the Emerald Isle, we need not stop to conjecture.

—The pension office business for the past month was as follows: Whole number of claims received during the month of May, original and increase, of widows, etc., 2216; of invalids, 885; total, 3101. Number of claims admitted, original and increase, of widows, etc., 1980; of invalids, 914; total, 2894. Number of claims rejected, original and increase, of widows, etc., 149; of invalids, 455; total, 604. The whole number of claims disposed of during the month was 3498. The number of letters written was 4925; circulars sent, 15,551. In the bounty land division 90 warrants of 100 acres each were issued; 4 of 120 acres; 1 of 80 acres. Whole number of warrants issued during the month, 95—covering 14 960 acres. New applications received, 52; letters written, 219; circulars sent, 173; claims suspended, 252; duplicate warrants issued, 25.

—Mr. Delmar, Director of the Bureau of Statistics, has compiled and published a complete list of all the merchant vessels of the United States, by name, rig, tonnage and home port. The total number of vessels is 16,218, of which 545 are ships, 745 are barks, 608 are brigs, 8863 are schooners, 2845 are sloops, 46 are yachts, 58 are long boats, and 2507 are steam vessels of various kinds. The total tonnage of the vessels contained in the list is 2,755,504. To each of these vessels has been awarded an official number which is required to be marked upon the vessel and upon her papers. To each seagoing vessel has also been awarded a group consisting of four alphabetical letters to form part of her number and to be used as its symbol for purposes of signalizing to passing vessels at sea or stations on shore.

—The mother of Charles F. Browne (Artemus Ward) has finally heard from the English executors, but in such vague and unsatisfactory terms that she might as well not have heard from them at all. There is something very strange about the disposition of her son's property. He certainly left a considerable sum, but what has become of it nobody can tell—on this side of the Atlantic at least.

EARNINGS OF OUR STREET RAILWAY. During last month, the cars on our city railway carried an aggregate of 85,109 passengers. Aside from the tickets sold, the cash receipts on the several routes were as follows: Hernando street, $2009 65: Beal street, $1866 58; and Poplar street, $1749 40. The above shows a gain of fully ten per cent. over the receipts for April, which were as follows: Hernando street, $1444 95; Beal street, $1540 70; and Poplar street, $1627 55.

CLEAN FACES—The popular and well known proprietor of the Eldorado Barber Shop on Jefferson street, has reduced his price to fifteen cents for shaving. We advise all our friends who want anything in his line to call and get it done neatly and with dispatch. Hair cutting and shampooing, thirty-five cents. Hair dyeing is also reduced so that the heaviest tax-payer in the city will not be able to wear a blacker head covering than he who knows no revenue officer and pays no taxes on his income.

EMMONS & SON, No. 10 Jefferson street, and 393 Main street, received last night, by the Memphis & Charleston Railroad, the largest lot of papers which have come to the city for some time; that is the reason the train was one hour behind time. They have received Waverly, Bazaar, The Week, Album, Sporting Times, Turf, Wilke's, Albion, New York Citizen, the Horticulturist for June. The reason everybody goes to Emmons', they are the only news agents that keep the business up right. Call on them and they will treat you right.

HONS. RANKIN AND HAMILTON.—The present member of the State Legislature from this county, and candidate for Congress for the State at large, is, we see, not to be allowed to seize more honors without strong opposition from his own party. All the sweet things of this world are not to be permitted to drop into his lap without having some of the sugar taken off. H. N. Rankin, Esq., is, we learn, out as an opposition candidate—Rankin, who aspires to have the prefix "Hon." to his name, (on account of his color) is doubtless entitled to the position, and being about as popular with so-called white Radicals as the Hon. Hamilton, will, we think, get the larger vote.

JUNE 10.—Saints Getulius and companions, martyrs, 2d century. St. Landry, or Landericus, Bishop of Paris, confessor, 7th century. St. Margaret, Queen of Scotland, 1093. Blessed Henry, or Rigo of Treviso, confessor, 1315.

Born—James, Prince of Wales, commonly called "the Pretender," 1688, London; John Dolland, eminent optician, 1806, Spitalfields; James Short, maker of reflecting telescope, 1710, Edinburgh.

Died—Emperor Frederick Barbarossa, 1190, Cilicia; Thomas Hearne, antiquary, 1735, Oxford; James Smith, promoter of sub-soil ploughing, 1850, Kinzeancleuch, Ayrshire.

TOOF, PHILLIPS & CO.—Notwithstanding the cry of dull times, this enterprising firm are now receiving very large additions to their stock of groceries and plantation supplies, which they will, as heretofore, sell quickly at a small margin. Having purchased at a season when bargains are mostly secured will enable them to dispose of their goods at such prices as will give satisfaction not only to the transient buyer, but to their regular customers, who are legion in number, throughout this and the adjoining States. All the members of the firm are young men—energetic—honorable in their dealings, and too well known to need naming separately in a tribute of this kind to their united worth. Planters and country merchants, as well as city buyers, should call on them at the corner of Front and Court streets, and examine their stock.

THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD REMOVED TO THIS CITY. The Biblical Recorder, published at Raleigh, N. C., contains the following item which will be read with interest by many in this city:

"The Southern Baptist Convention has ordered the removal of the Sunday School Board to Memphis, with the understanding that it be consolidated with the Sunday School Union. It is currently reported that the Secretaryship of this Board has been offered to Rev. T. B. Kingsbury, of Warrenton, N. C. We hope the report is true, and that this accomplished writer, judicious critic, and able and faithful minister, may there find a sphere commensurate with his distinguished gifts and acquirements. His removal would be a serious loss to our State, but we have few men who would carry with them so much confidence, so much efficiency, and so much hope for future usefulness."

We may add that Mr. K. has reached Memphis and entered upon the discharge of his duties here.

MORE SHOOTING.

A Negro Wounded in the Country.

Monday evening Mr. J. G. Williams, clerk at Mr. Peter Mitchell's woodyard, three miles out on the Horn Lake road, had an altercation about a load of wood, with a negro named Isaac Coleman. Coleman had a gun, and we understand made some threatening remark. Williams got possession of another gun, charged with bird shot, and fired at Coleman. The charge struck the negro in several places. The wounds are not regarded as dangerous. Williams was first arraigned before Rankin, the negro magistrate, but afterwards was taken before Esquire Black who required him to give $5000 bonds for his appearance today.

DIRECT TRADE WITH EUROPE.—We find the following proceedings of an important meeting held at Morristown on Saturday last, reported in the Gazette, published at that place:

In accordance with a call previously made, a number of citizens of Morristown, Tenn., met at the Female Academy on Saturday evening, to discuss the propriety and feasibility of calling a general meeting of the citizens along the line of the railroad between Memphis, Tenn., and Norfolk, Va., to be held in Bristol, Tenn., on the 15th day of July next, to organize a Tennessee and Virginia Steamship Transportation Company, to establish a line of steamships between Norfolk, Va., and Liverpool, England.

On motion, C. E. Carriger, Esq., was called to the Chair, and L. P. Speck appointed Secretary.

After the object of the meeting was explained by Messrs. Carriger and Morris, and the views and opinions of other gentlemen were given, the following resolutions were introduced and adopted:

WHEREAS, A ready market, with increased facilities for reaching the same, commands at all times the highest price for the produce of a country, brings a greater return to the producer, and enhances the value of its lands; and,

Whereas, The commercial interests of Tennessee, Virginia and other Southern States would be largely benefitted by the establishment of a line of steamships between Norfolk, Va., and Liverpool; therefore,

Resolved, That we, the citizens of Morristown and vicinity, will use our best efforts to secure the organization of a company to be known as the Tennessee and Virginia Transportation Company, which shall have for its object the establishment of a line of steamships to run between Norfolk, Va., and Liverpool.

Resolved, That the citizens along the line of railroad between Memphis and Norfolk are cordially invited to cooperate with us by sending delegates to a general meeting, to be held at Bristol, Tenn., on the 15th day of July next.

On motion, the Chairman was requested to appoint a committee of three to correspond and confer with the people along the line of road between Memphis and Norfolk upon this subject; whereupon Messrs Drury Morris, A. W. Wilson and L. P. Speck were appointed said committee.

On motion, the Chairman was added to the committee.

THE TOURNAMENT.—The grand tournament will be held at "Central Park," instead of the Memphis Association Course, as was designed. The Committee appointed to make arrangements for the track, considered the terms of the President of the Course most illiberal and exhorbitant, and could not accept them. They have made a very satisfactory arrangement with Mr. J. H. McClure, who leased the Central Park from the city, and who is now erecting an amphitheater with sufficient capacity to accommodate 10,000 or more persons. The Park is beautifully situated and well adapted to a tournament ground—only twenty minutes run from Memphis. Arrangements have been made with Capt. W. J. Ross, Superintendent of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, to run trains every fifteen minutes to the grounds. Fare only twenty cents the round trip. A liberal feeling seems to be exercised by all towards the success of the enterprise, except the Memphis Association Course. The cause for which this tournament was inaugurated would not appear to have any claims upon the President of the Association referred to, as the terms upon which he proposed to allow the use of the Race Grounds were out of all reason, and could not for a moment be entertained by the managers. The present arrangement is all that could be desired, and every means will be devised for the pleasure and comfort of the visitors.

HOW TO MANAGE A KEROSENE LAMP. Many of our readers probably, have been worried and got out of patience many a time and oft with their lamps. If they follow the following instructions much of the annoyance will be avoided:

If the brass-work, cone, etc., is heated unusually hot, it will cause gas to generate in the lamp, which, as it produces pressure, will force itself up through and around the wick and ignite, causing the lamp to sputter, and even snap itself out. Now if, when it is "sputtering" the brass-work is cooled off, for instance, by wrapping a wet cloth around it, the lamp will cease sputtering and snapping, and burn as it should.

An examination, while operating as above, will generally reveal charred and saturated wick burning around the base of the wick tube, or the flame of the lamp may impinge on the cone, owing to its being slightly turned or the wick having a ragged corner, causing the brass to heat and generating gas. Low proof oil, forming gas at a low temperature, is consequently more unsafe to use. If the wick fits the tube properly, blowing down the chimney is the best way to extinguish it, for the following reasons: It is perfectly safe, the wick need not be trimmed for several days, thus obviating the necessity of regulating it every time it is lighted. A slight puff or a gentle flirt of the fingers across the top of the chimney, in an upward, slanting direction, is all that is necessary. A tremendous and badly aimed blast is generally used, where a mere puff would suffice, if properly directed.

POLICE ITEMS.

—Twelve cases disposed of in the police courts yesterday morning yielded twenty-three dollars in fines.

—Stock thieves made a raid night before last on G. W. Cheek & Co.'s stables on the old factory lot in Chelsea, and carried off three valuable horses.

—Mr. Washaner's store, No. 69 Beal street, was broken into yesterday morning about two o'clock, by burglars. A large hole was bored out on the side, from an alley. Mr. W., hearing the noise, got up, and the burglars hearing him, left without entering.

—Cooney and Joseph Rutchman, charged with being accessory to the shooting of John Curlin, appeared before Esquire Kiernan yesterday morning, and, waiving examination, were bound over in the sum of $2000 each, to appear and answer at the next term of the Circuit Court.

—The residence of H. Houseff, at Central Point, was entered by thieves during the absence of that gentleman Monday, and a large quantity of bed clothing, wearing apparel, and several pieces of furniture stolen. The theft is supposed to have been committed by negroes who were acquainted with the premises.

THE COURTS.

CHANCERY COURT—Wm. M. Smith, Chancellor.—Meets to-day pursuant to adjournment. The following cases will be heard: Evans vs. Thompson; Keep vs. Cannovan. The Clerk and Master will take an account to-day in the following cases: Stoner et al. vs. Humes; Holland vs. Vance.

CRIMINAL COURT.—Wm. Hunter, Judge.—The Grand Jury empannelled on yesterday is as follows: H. D. Connell, Foreman, J. C. Marshall, G. B. Miller, R. Clark, J. E. Carpenter, O. F. Prescott, J. D. Williams, R. P. Bolling, J. T. McCoy, G. H. Blood, J. T. Fergusson, W. W. Coleman, Isador Rosenbach. No special charges were given to the Grand Jury. To-day the trial docket will be called, commencing at Case No. 1.

LAW COURT—James O. Pierce, Judge. Stands adjourned until Monday, June 22, 1868. Judge Pierce has resigned—the resignation to take effect when his successor shall have been appointed. The names of John T. Farrington, Esq., and Charles Kortrecht, Esq. have been mentioned in connection with the vacancy and appointment. It is to be hoped that some able lawyer can be prevailed upon to accept the judgeship, as it would be a great hardship upon the bar should a young and incompetent attorney be appointed by Brownlow, to fill the position heretofore graced by the lamented Judge Thos. G. Smith. It is more than probable that the appointment will be a political one, regardless of the appointee's judicial knowledge.

MUNICIPAL COURT—Geo. W. Waldran, Judge.—On yesterday in the case of the State vs. Myers and John Doe, indictment for larceny, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. In the case of the State vs. Robt. Johnson, indictment for unlawful gaming, a verdict of not guilty was returned. In the case of the State vs. Robt. Church, indictment for unlawful gaming, forfeitures were taken against the defendant and his securities. The other cases set for trial were continued. The trial docket will be called to-day as usual.

SHELBY CIRCUIT COURT—George W. Reeves, Judge.—The case of the State vs. A. Linsey, alias A. McLinsey, indictment for larceny, was called up for trial on yesterday. Gen. Sale, counsel of the defendant, moved to quash the indictment, it being defective in form. After argument, Judge Reeves decided the motion to be well taken, and quashed the indictment. The Attorney General excepted to the decision, and prayed an appeal, which was granted. There are three other indictments for the same offense against the defendant. An order was made on yesterday to the effect that no trial papers can be taken from the Courtroom during the present term of the Court. Attorneys having trial papers out of Court will return them to the Clerk without delay or further notice.

BANKRUPTCY COURT.—T. J. Latham, Register.—The petitions of W. J. Algeo, J. W. Hester, M. Connell, jr., J. M. Bowling, Thomas A. Cocke, A. G. Neville, and J. C. Terry, have been found incorrect in form. Attorneys interested will have the same corrected.

An Assignee was appointed in the bankruptcy case of Alexander Rudd.

THE OPERA AT THE NEW MEMPHIS. A fashionable though not a large audience assembled at the New Memphis last evening, to witness the first appearance of Miss Isabel McCulloch, with her combination parlor opera troupe, in the grand comic opera of the Barber of Seville. Miss McCulloch, in the role of "Rossini," was excellent, and won the hearty plaudits of the audience. Susini as "Bartola" was fully equal to the reputation of former occasions, and pleased the spectators with his comicalities. Bove, Orlandini and Locatelli were in excellent voice, and performed their several roles to the satisfaction of the audience. Donizetti's elegant opera of Don Pasquale will be represented this evening; and the admirable performance of last evening is full assurance that a rich treat will be afforded all who may visit the New Memphis this evening. Miss McCulloch deserves patronage, and we trust she will not be disappointed in having a full house this evening.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

Weather clear; hot in the sun but very pleasant in the shade with splendid breeze. The river is falling steadily and is now about 16 feet below the last high water mark. The Arkansas is getting quite low. The officers of the Celeste, just in from that stream, report 28 inches from Fort Smith to Little Rock, and 3 feet thence to the mouth. White river is declining rapidly. The upper Mississippi and Missouri are rising slowly. The Ohio is falling. The latest news from Louisville will be found in our telegraphic columns. The Cincinnati Commercial of Monday says: Here the river has receded 22 inches during the 24 hours ending last night, with 17 feet in the channel by the waterworks' mark, and 851 feet under the Covington bridge for passing steamers.

Boats in Port.

Celeste, Peytona, Cora S.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The landing was more animated last evening than usual. The departing packets went out with very good passenger trips, and all had some freight, while the Cora S. was unloading a portion of her trip at this point.

The towboat Peytona is still at our wharf repairing. One of her cylinders had to be taken out, we believe, and her boilers are undergoing repairs. Messrs. W. A. Robinson & Co, of the Western Foundry, have her in hand, and will soon put her in as good condition as ever.

The fine packet Marble City, Capt. Conway, with Mr. Corbyn in the office, will be in port this evening, and leave for Cairo and St. Louis to-morrow evening.

The Olive Branch passed up before daylight yesterday.

The great low-pressure Richmond, Capt. Stut Neal, with Woolfolk and Lodge in the office, will pass up this morning for Cairo and Louisville. She is the queen of passenger packets.

The fine United States mail packet Celeste, Capt. Pritchard, backs out tomorrow for all points on the Arkansas to Fort Smith.

The rapid current in the river at this point has caused the caving in of large quantities of our landing, from the mouth of Wolf, down to the foot of Jefferson street. The mainland has been encroached upon more rapidly than ever before, until the water has engulphed a considerable portion of the cotton shed near the foot of Poplar street, known, we believe, as the Titus shed. If some action is not taken by our authorities, and that speedily, the whole of that part of the city will be washed away. Large sections slide off daily until it has become dangerous for flatboats to make fast to the bank, and the ringbolts above the Star wharfboat are about to go into the river.

S. Cook Creighton, clerk of the Mollie Able, arrived at home yesterday on a short visit.

Sam H. Shock, our well known passenger agent, is figuring in the "Wooley" impeachment question in Washington. Wooley handed $10,000 to a chap named Van Valkenburg, thinking the latter was "our Sam." It was an oversight which we regret, and have no doubt Sam does also.

The Cora S. came in last evening and departs to day for the Arkansas. Capt. King is master, and that popular gentleman, Al Croxall, is clerk.

The Magenta was due last night at midnight, and has no doubt passed up.

Capt. Frank Vincent bought a steamboat yesterday, but has not yet decided what trade to put her in. We did not learn the terms. The last seen of him he had his new purchase under his arm and was making tracks for home.

It will be remembered that some months since a number of iron clad vessels lying at Algiers were sold by Capt. Haggerty, U. S. N., to a purchaser in New Orleans, whose intention it was to take them to pieces, in order to devote the iron to more profitable uses. More recently the Onoasta and Catawba were purchased on speculation and have been repaired. The object is generally unknown, but it would appear that they cannot be intended for use in the peaceful waters of the Mississippi. Detectives are watching the steamers day and night.

An Indiana judge recently decided, in a fishing case, that if a man owned ten miles of a river bank, it would not give him right of property in a single fish until after he had caught it.

Our Latest Improved

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facility for manufacture enables us to offer them from three to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to the utmost capacity. The Lower register retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpractised and to the most cultivated ear.

The lines of these instruments are entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base finely moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep6 d&wly

THE NATIONAL

COMPANY.

A new enterprise, to be known as the National Telegraph Company, has been organized with valuable franchises conferred by a recent act of Congress for the purpose of establishing Trunk Lines of Telegraphs on all the principal railroads and mail routes in the United States. The stock is to be issued upon the same principle as that of the Merchant's Union Express Company, which recently commenced operations. The design is to interest the entire business community in the enterprise. This is done, not so much to dispose of the stock as it is to secure the business of the country through which the lines pass.

The Capital is to be

In 100,000 Shares, of the par value of

$100 PER SHARE,

But the actual amount to be paid in cash is

$35 Per Share,

And this amount is to be paid as follows: One per cent. of the par at the time of subscribing, and no more, until the entire capital has been subscribed, and then on calls to be made by the Board of Directors; instalments not to exceed five per cent. per month. When thirty-five per cent. of the par value of the shares has been paid, certificates of stock will be issued This will give the company a paid up

CASH CAPITAL OF $3,500,000,

Which will be sufficient to duplicate lines to all or nearly all the paying points reached by the present monopoly.

The present Telegraph Companies of the country have been consolidated into one huge monopoly, and are now earning over SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS per year, or over one hundred per cent. on the actual cost of their lines, their present capital having been watered over ONE THOUSAND per cent.

THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY have a recognition from the United States Government of the importance of their enterprise, with a grant of the most valuable franchises ever conferred upon a telegraph company. No competing line has ever had the right now granted by Congress to this company to construct and operate lines over every RAILROAD and MAIL ROUTE in the United States. The position of this company differs from that of any company ever before organized. The question of the RIGHT OF WAY IS FOREVER SETTLED.

The stockholders of this company cannot be sold out or TRANSFERRED to any other company. The act of Congress under which this company has been organized, prohibits any transfer of the franchises granted.

CALLS---HOW TO BE MADE.

One per cent. of the Stock will be required on subscribing, and subsequent calls, not to exceed five per cent. per month, will be made by the Board of Directors, from time to time, as may be necessary, to supply funds to construct and equip the lines; but no calls will be made after the one per cent. is paid, until the ENTIRE CAPITAL STOCK shall have been subscribed.

ACTUAL CAPITAL REQUIRED

The Company confidently believe that thirty-five per cent. of the Capital Stock will construct and fully equip

35,000 MILES OF WIRE,

Which will connect all the commercial centers and important places in the United States This opinion rests upon the most reliable estimates and responsible offers to construct and equip the lines.

The National Telegraph Company is organized under the Laws of the State of New York and franchises conferred by an act of Congress, approved July 24, 1866.

Stock may now be subscribed in this company at the office of

MEMPHIS APPEAL

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

BROWNSVILLE, June 9, 1 p.m.—In the Supreme Court to-day the following action was had: Greenwald vs. Block, decision affirmed; Apperson vs. Bynum, tried, but decision not yet rendered. At the hour of adjournment the Court was engaged on the case of League vs. Merchant's National Bank—No. 22.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Woolley accounts for the $20,000 as follows: Part, he says, was spent on his private business and that of his client, and part was handed to Ransom Van Valkenburg, of New York, at a convivial party—the witness believing at the time that he was giving it to Mr. Shock. He denies any disrespect to the House or Managers, and files an affidavit from Ransom Van Valkenburg, Robert Strong, Cornelius Wendel and C. H. Shelley, fully setting forth the disposal of the money.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The spring meeting of the American Jockey Club commences to-day at Jerome Park, with the most sanguine expectations of success, and will continue Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday. The largest number of horses gathered at any race meeting in America are at the course.

The Herald prints a private letter of Judge Chase, in which he says he was not a partisan on either side in the impeachment trial. He says he shall adhere to his old creeds of equal rights. "They may denounce and abuse me and read me out of the party if they choose. I follow my old lights, not the new. What the developments of the future may be, I know not. I neither expect or desire to be a candidate for office again. It would, however, gratify me exceedingly if the Democratic party would take ground which would assure the party against all attempts to subvert the principles of universal suffrage established in right, and soon to be established in all of the Southern Constitutions. Then, I think, the future of the great cause for which I have labored so long, would be secured, and I should not regret my absence from political labors."

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 9.—The Sarsfield Guards, of this city, have accepted the challenge of the Montgomery Guards, of Boston, to drill for the championship of the United States.

UTICA, N. Y., June 9.—A man named Moses Johnson was murdered, on Thursday or Friday, in his own house, in Brookfield, Madison county, and his body cast into a well. He was first robbed and then butchered with an ax.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, June 9, 1868.

There is no change in money matters to report. Rates of Exchange remain as they were at our last.

Gold opened in New York at 139½ and closed at the same. We have no sales of any amount to record. The buying rates are nominally 138 to 138½, and selling at 139½ to 140.

City Scrip is nominally unchanged. Ledger balances are more in demand, and brokers pay more for them than for Scrip. We quote the former buying at 72 to 75c. The latter 70 to 73c; selling at 75 to 78c.

County Warrants are dull. Dealers are not buying largely. They offer 58 to 62c, and sell at 63 to 65c.

Police Scrip is now plentiful. Buying at 80 to 83c; selling at 85 to 86c.

The suit instituted by order of Andrew Johnson when Military Governor of the State, against the members of the Legislature of 1861, who voted to remove South the assets of the Bank of Tennessee, will come up in the Circuit Court at Shelbyville in a few days. The amount involved is over $1,000,000.

Gen. J. T. Boyle, President of the Evansville, Henderson and Nashville Railroad, addressed a meeting at the latter place on the 6th inst. with regard to the proposed subscription, by the county, of its Louisville and Nashville Railroad stock in aid of the first named road.

Any attempt to increase the burdens of the tariff comes with a bad grace from manufacturers who have just been benefitted by the repeal of the internal tax. They have already been relieved this session to the extent of forty-five millions, and surely that should satisfy all but excessive greed. If the tariff is to be touched at all, it should be with a view to reducing duties in the proportion of aid rendered by the removal of the internal tax; and if Mr. Moorehead persists, we trust this is the counterblast that will be used against him. For the re-opening of the subject, if it is re-opened, will be wanton and uncalled for. Nothing has occurred, or is probable, that can justify its agitation. The financial condition of the country affords the strongest possible guarantee that, for years to come, a large customs' revenue will be indispensable; and in the comparatively high duties which are thus made necessary, the manufacturers have all they can fairly ask in the shape of protection.

The total shipments of specie from New York since January 1 to May 23, 1868, amounted to $32,947,998. This is nearly double the amount of specie exports during the same period in 1867. It is also largely in excess of the exports during the corresponding time in former years. According to the returns of exports and imports the balance of trade is now in our favor, and is likely to become more decidedly so when the produce trade sets in more actively in the fall. It is to be observed, however, that in the present unsettled condition of credit on the other side of the Atlantic, and in consequence of the ease in money on this side, bankers find it more convenient and profitable to ship specie to provide for bills which otherwise might be allowed to take the general course of trade.

The Liverpool cotton market at the opening to-day was dull and declining. Uplands, 11¾d; Orleans, 11¾d. It was nominally unchanged at noon, but closed lower and tending downwards. Uplands, 11¾ to 11⅞; Orleans, 11¾ to 11¾d. Sales 5000 bales.

In New York at the opening prices were nominal. Low Middlings, 28¾c; Uplands, 30c; Orleans, 30½c; Good Middlings, 31¼. At noon there was no change and closing flat. Middlings, nominally 30c. Sales 250 bales.

There was no inquiry in this market and only a very few bales changed hands at irregular prices. Holders would sell readily at 28c and in some instances 27½c would not be refused. We quote the market dull and prices entirely nominal.
